A NEW CITY DIRECTORY.

Agents Preparing to begin on the book.

Janesville is to have her demand for a new directory supplied. Agents for Dunn, Philippi & Buckingham arrived in the city to-day and are looking over the ground preparatory to beginning the work.

The firm has its headquarters in La Crosse and has published the directories of Rockford, Oshkosh, La Crosse and Madison for years. In every case its work has won much praise. The directories are arranged on an improved system which makes them easier of reference and better in every way.

A feature to which special attention is paid is census-taking. At La Crosse in 1880 the directory census, when taken, showed two thousand more than the official census of the same year. The publishers insisted in the correctness of their figures and a second census showed that they were in the right.

THE WEATHER.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 63 degrees above zero. Clear with northeast wind.

At one o'clock p. m. the register was 63 degrees above zero. Clear with northeast wind.

For the corresponding hour one year ago the register was 60 and 56 degrees above zero.

We are making low prices on all parasols and sun shades.

A FEIST OF MUSIC.

October Chosen for the Reception of the State Musical Society in Janesville.

It will be the Society's Thirty-Fourth Annual Meeting.

Plans and Projects.

Janesville will entertain the Wisconsin State Musical Society during the second week of October. A meeting of the officers of the association was held last evening and it was decided to have the session extend from October 9th to 12th. Arrangements are to be made that will assure the meeting's success beyond any question. Janesville already has a well established reputation for its appreciation of good music and this reputation is to be thoroughly sustained. The convention will bring together musical people from every part of the state and their entertainment will be all that hospitality can suggest.

The state musical society has now been in existence thirty-four years. In all that time it has missed but one annual meeting. One oratorio is presented each year, the remainder of the time being taken up with instruction and miscellaneous concerts. Funds are provided by the sale of tickets to these concerts, and by the charges for attendance on the course of lectures—one dollar for ladies; one dollar and a half for gentlemen. The smallest sum ever raised at any annual meeting was three hundred dollars. The lectures are likely to prove unusually attractive this year as efforts are being made to secure addresses from Prof. Van Olver. It is understood that the oratorio to be presented will be the "Creation," something never before attempted in this city.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

The Chimes of Normandy given by the Dehon Opera Company.

An audience of very fair size enjoyed the Dehon Opera Company's presentation of Chimes of Normandy last evening. The opera was put on the stage in a way that would do credit to many a metropolitan production, the costumes especially being admirable.

Tom Hacketts took the part of Henri Marquis of Cornville, very effectively; while Victor De Lacy appeared as Ganiacheux, the fisherman, and showed himself to be the possessor of one of the best baritone voices that have been heard on the Janesville stage for years. The most noteworthy character of the cast, however, was Frank Dehon, as Gaspard, the miser. His acting was almost terrible in its intensity. In the castle scene he drew round after round of applause, being finally obliged to appear before the curtain.

Other admirable characters were Serpolette as Ganiacheux's daughter, Lucille Meredith, and Germaine, by Miss Marie Dresler. Comedy parts were well taken by Herbert J. Matthews and Charles Osborne, although the latter's acting would have been much funnier if the attempt to be funny had been less manifest.

THE COURT REPORTER.

The advantages it would secure it located at Atton.

To the Editor.

Atton, Wis., July 31st, 1888.

Considerable attention has been directed lately to the movements of the special committee appointed by the county board of supervisors to select a new and more central location for the county poor house and farm, and each town visited, undoubtedly they have in their vicinity just the place for such location. The committee recently paid our town a visit and in the course of their inspection came to the farm of Mr. David Dunwiddie, the one farm above all others really suitable for the proposed change, and for a number of reasons which we will soon enumerate. The farm consisting of over 300 acres is situated about one mile east of the village and is perhaps better known in town as either the Olmsted or Dunwiddie farm. It was recently purchased by Mr. Dunwiddie and is occupied and conducted by his son-in-law Mr. J. B. Humphrey.

We believe the notices scattered throughout the different towns by the committee relative to the proposed change made special mention of the fact that railway facilities were needed and a position convenient to either or both the C. & N. W. and C. & S. St. P. railroads would be desirable. Just so, suppose you could strike a farm with both roads in close proximity. Competition is established don't you see? Well, now, Squirt Dunwiddie's possessions, have this attraction, the Canadian Division line runs along the C. & N. W. Ry. skirts the western border of the farm and the Janesville and Beloit line of the C. & S. P. Ry. is found stretching through it over to the other side of the road. Thus the railway question is settled and the artificial means of communication found.

But what is that just beyond the letter named road? Nothing but the trees. Considered by the breeze. Noble old oak tree, memorable in history, beautiful in surroundings, the center of the "Badger State" in its plan, course to the east forms for this farm its entire eastern boundary. So here we have the natural means of communication opened and still another point to make.

Janesville, the "Queen City," the capital of the county, the pride and home of over 12,000 souls, is situated about seven miles north.

At about the same distance to the south as its homes and centers are chimneys in Janesville, the "Queen City," the capital of the county, the pride and home of over 12,000 souls, is situated about seven miles north.

Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

THE WINANS' BOON.

Wanted: David Davies said to go to the man at the helm.

Last evening's Milwaukee Journal says: The origin of the story that John Winans was trying to capture the democratic nomination for governor was crossed today, and it now appears to have been simply a joke. The Wisconsin delegates to the Baltimore convention went to Washington and stopped at the Arlington, where every man was registered as "Hon." This attracted the attention of a reporter of The Critic, who interviewed David Davies, a Janesville man. Mr. Davies told Capt. Tait, of Milwaukee, that he proposed to "stuff" that reporter and he did. "There's the next governor of Wisconsin," said Davies in a jubilant tone of voice, and pointing to Winans—"We've got it all set up, ain't we, John?"

"I can endorse anything you say," replied Winans, who had not heard what Davies said.

Then the reporter published the story of "Winans for governor," and that Wisconsin could give a democratic majority. This attracted the attention of the Washington Post, and one of its reporters, after being loaded by Davies, wrote the Critic reporter, and it was his article that was sent to Wisconsin and threw Col. Kubele into hysterics. The cry of "Winans for governor" was started at Baltimore to help Wisconsin capture the honor of naming the chairman of the convention.

"John Winans has not been and is not a candidate for governor," said one of Mr. Winans' friends to-day. "He hasn't time."

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

INTRAY TOBACCO LEAVES.

Quiet Times in Trade Circles During the Week.

Last week did much for the growers, but very little for the dealers, so far as Wisconsin tobacco was concerned. The '88 crop is coming in nicely. Fields look better than they have since the memorable season of 1885, and farmers are correspondingly happy.

Dealers have been rather quiet. They are watching with much interest the new wetting cutting process now being used for the first season in Janesville, and report themselves well satisfied with the result.

One of the largest sales made during the week was that of three hundred and forty cases by Baies, Hadley & Co., to Chicago parties. The figures have not been made public but are understood to have included a very fair profit.

In New York, the United States Tobacco Journal says, prospective was the principal feature of the market for the past week. Prospective buyers are making a tour round the market to take a look at the new goods and to test them. Sales, therefore, were few. It is still too early for extensive purchases of the new leaf, but all the signs point to a very lively season as soon as the inspectors' samples will be out, which can hardly be before the end of next month.

EXCURSION TO DEVIL'S LAKE.

On the Chicago & Northwestern Ry., Sunday, Aug. 12th, a special train for Devil's Lake leaves Janesville 9:30 a. m. Returning it leaves Devil's Lake 7 p. m. The fare will be $2.00.

OAK HILL CEMETERY.

The following interments were made at Oak Hill cemetery during the month ending July 31, 1888:

July 2—J. M. Rogers, Janesville, aged 70 years.

FOUNTAIN PARK.

Janesville people who desire to spend a day at Geneva Lake, should bear in mind that the seven o'clock morning train connects at Sharon with Pat Gibbons' bus line for Port Jervis, reaching there at 10 a. m. The bus leaves at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, arriving at Sharon in time to meet the train north. On Sunday evenings the vestibule train will stop at Sharon for Janesville passengers.

How Mr. Rothenberg Received His Money.

Mr. C. L. Rothenberg, the editor of the New England Station Zeitung, 40 La-grange street, Boston, Mass., last month was the fortunate owner of one-twentieth of ticket $3,333, which drew the third capital prize of $50,000 in the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery. He was so fortunate in saying anything about the money, but the one remark that he did make was: "I draw prize money and I got it money." Now let me tell you. Boston (Mass.) Record, June 23.
